

Wix Transparency Report - 2025

Wix cares deeply about the privacy of its visitors and users and considers it of the utmost importance. We are committed to protecting our Users’ data.

When looking into legal requests we receive on data collection by law enforcement and governmental entities, we adhere to the following principles:

- 1. We will not voluntarily provide governments with direct access to data about our customers for any purpose, especially surveillance purposes.
- 2. We will not share information with law enforcement agencies and governmental entities unless we are legally required to do so.
- 3. We will only comply with requests that are based on solid legal grounds, and we will examine each request thoroughly.
- 4. We will produce information when the requesting body has the legal authority to issue and enforce the request.
- 5. We are unable to process overly broad or vague requests, and we might experience technical constraints processing requests that refer to a large number of customers.
- 6. We will notify our customers before we produce information about them or their users unless we are explicitly and legally prohibited from doing so.
- 7. We will only share the information specifically requested by the agency that requested it. We will not provide additional information unless we are specifically asked for it.
- 8. If the request has to do with the information of one of our customers, we will not provide any additional information on this user’s users.

REQUESTS:

In 2025, Wix.com received a total of 582 requests from agencies in 33 countries. After an extensive review of each request, Wix has decided to object to 68 requests and did not provide information in these instances. We have objected to data disclosure in cases where we were unable to locate the requested data in our system or the request did not meet legal requirements regarding data disclosure. We have produced records concerning 624 URLs where the underlying request provided a valid legal basis for disclosure.

During the year of 2025, Wix.com has not received any request under the U.S.A.’s Foreign Intelligence Surveillance Act (“FISA”) and National Security Letters (“NSLs”).
